Make sure your goods and customers have uninterrupted access

In pharmacy stores, customer entrances are critical

When your business relies on the movement of customers in and out of your store, front entrances are critical. Entrances at the front of your store must be able to withstand heavy pedestrian traffic and the occasional cart collision and at the back of your store, the constant movement of goods.

Without entrances that are optimal for your store, you could risk:

- Unwanted downtime
- Avoidable damage
- Decreased security

Doors that keep up with the pace of your store

Reliable and hard-wearing entrance systems keep customers shopping

It is crucial that all of your doors promote good flow and help to keep customers safe and comfortable. That is why ASSA ABLOY Entrance Systems has a full range of entrances that are specially engineered to accommodate heavy foot traffic. And with fast response service available, you can be confident that any unplanned downtime will not hold you up for long.
